KINGSLEY PRESENTS

The September Lecture Is Almost Here! Plus the Release of a New Video

Philanthropist Alan Templeton will speak in September as the Kingsley Art Club lecture series continues.

Don't miss the return of a favorite speaker to KINGSLEY ART CLUB Lecture Series!

Please note:

Lectures will start at 2:30 pm,
at the
Crocker Art Museum Auditorium,
216 O Street,
Sacramento, CA 95814.

Wednesday, September 20th:

Alan Templeton

Philanthropist Alan Templeton returns to speak again on collecting art and finding the right matches for the institutions he endows them to.

With a special fondness for European art of the 17th and 18th centuries, Templeton has donated art for many years and underwritten the Crocker's purchases of art spanning the 14th to 20th centuries.

Alan Templeton's generosity has resulted in the Crocker's adding to their collection:

- paintings,
- drawings,
- prints and
- Meissen porcelain.

"The biggest fringe benefit of being a donor is you are engaged in a high quality form of education..."

philanthropist Alan Templeton

Philanthropist Alan Templeton speaking about his donation to the Crocker Art Museum, "Portrait of the Painter Anne Vallayer-Coster", by Alexander Roslin.

When you arrive at the Crocker, please check in at the reception desk.

They will check your name off the roster provided of the all the Kingsley members. No need to RSVP ahead of time.
